

Welcome to the Personal Home Assistant user manual . The manual was created using the CHM editor . We will introduce the Personal Home Assistant user interface and demonstrate its proper functions.

User interface

In the image below are highlighted important parts of the Personal Home Assistant user interface

Upper part

In the top part of the ui highlighted with number 1, we have the following parts:

In the Personal Assistant tab

In the " Your Smart Divices" tab

You can turn off and on all your connected smart devices, i.e., Smart Garage, Smart Alarm, Smart Vacume, by simply clicking on their icon
Devices that are not sown have a red icon, while those that are sown have a green icon, as shown in the image below.

In the " Home Lights" tab

You can turn off and on all your connected smart lights by clicking the icon of the room where you would like to switch the lights on or off.
Lights that are off are sown with a black icon, while lights that are on are yellow, like in the image below.

Side bar

In the highlighted part with the number 2, we have the following panel :

- Smart Shoe Rack
- Email Reader
- Media Player
- Text Reader
- News Reader
- Weather Reader
- Web Reader
- Search Web
- E-Delivery

With the following elements:

Smart Shoe rack : Displays the shoes you will need for the day based on your daily schedule.

Settings

You can access the settings by clicking on the setting icon highlighted with number 3 on the bottom left side of the Personal Home Assistant.

Pet Managment

For households with pets, the Personal Home Assistant can help you keep track of your pets' needs when you are away.

On panel number 4, we have the pet management application.

By clicking the first icon, you can check your pet's mood and current location in the house as well as the remaining food and water on your automatic feeder.

By clicking the food or water icon, you can refill your automated feeder or water container, respectively.

Daily Schedule planer

On panel number 6, we have our Daily Schedule planer

By clicking "Add a new event", we get the following panel.
